Detroit Board of Police Commissioners

Ricardo R.
MOORE
Police Commissioner
DISTRICT 7

About Police Commissioner Moore and the Detroit Board of Police Commissioners

Ricardo R. Moore is a retired Detroit Police Lieutenant. First elected in 2013 by District 7 residents, he returned to the Board of Police Commissioners after completing a four-year appointment on the State of Michigan Parole Board.

Born and raised in Detroit, he attended Detroit Public Schools and graduated from Murray-Wright High School. He earned a bachelor's degree from Western Michigan University and a master's degree from Central Michigan University. He also is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University's School of Police Staff and Command and is a Certified Correctional Executive.

Police Commissioner Moore understands public safety and can relate first hand to crime victims. His grandfather was a victim of homicide; Ricardo and his mother found his grandfather. During his high school years, violence was quite prevalent. Shootings at a homecoming football game, weapon sweeps, and a murder outside the school cafeteria are cornerstones to why he cares about keeping people safe.

He served in the U.S. Army and earned an honorable discharge, then later joined the Detroit Police Department. In addition to distinguished service in law enforcement, Moore's career includes positions at the Bureau of Prisons, where he was a union vice president, and the Michigan House of Representatives, where he worked as a chief of staff. He also has experience working as an autism assistant.

He is a member of Central CME Church and Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity. His community involvement also includes serving as a Precinct Delegate. He is the father of a son, Ricardo II, and the proud grandfather of three grandchildren.

The Board of Police Commissioners (BOPC) is comprised of 11 members. Seven are elected by districts like City Council members, and four are at-large mayoral appointees approved by Council. All 11 Board members serve without compensation as a vital civilian board to help ensure police powers and practices comply with Constitutional protections and community policing standards.

The 1974 City Charter first established a civilian oversight board. The BOPC derives its current powers and duties from the 2012 Charter, which strengthened independent, citizen oversight.

Authority: The Board has supervisory control and oversight of the Police Department.

Meeting Schedule: The Board is required to meet at least once each week but may vote to recess during the Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year holidays. All meetings are held in accordance with the Open Meetings Act.

Specific Duties:

- Establish policies, rules and regulations in consultation with the Chief of Police, and with the approval of the Mayor
- Review and approve the departmental budget before its submission to the Mayor
- Receive and resolve any complaint concerning the operation of the Police Department except those involving criminality
- Act as final authority in imposing or reviewing discipline of employees of the department
- Make an annual report to the Mayor, Council, and the public of the department's activities during the previous year, including the handling of crime and complaints, and of future plans

Other Board Responsibilities:

Staff:* The Board appoints a Board Secretary and a Chief Investigator, along with other investigators to handle citizen complaints against police/DPD.

Chief of Police: Whenever the Chief of Police position becomes vacant, the Board is responsible for conducting a professional search to identify qualified candidates. The Board submits a list of the final candidates to the Mayor, who makes the appointment subject to City Council approval.

Police Personnel: The Board appoints a civilian as Director of Police Personnel. The Board also approves all promotions made within the DPD.

Office of the Chief Investigator (OCI): OCI investigates citizen complaints against police and other DPD staff and reports findings to the Board.
