Congressional Races

As a result of the 2020 Census results, Michigan lost a seat in the U.S. House of Representatives. Previously Michigan had 14 districts, now there are only 13 districts. Metro-Detroit is now represented primarily by the 12th and 13th Congressional Districts.

Michigan's 12th Congressional District boundaries, represented by incumbent U.S. Representative Debbie Dingell (D), moved after the 2020 Census recorded a lower proportion of the population than previously recorded in 2010. In 2022, Rep. Dingell is running in the new 6th District.
