PROPERTY OVERVIEW

In partnership with the Detroit Building Authority (DBA), the City of Detroit's Housing and Revitalization Department (HRD) and Planning and Development Department (PDD) seek proposals from qualified entities to design and construct new mixed-income housing in the heart of the Brush Park neighborhood. The development site is located at 3124-3136 Brush and 420-430 Erskine at the southeast corner of Brush Street and Erskine Street. The site is approximately 17,500 square feet, or 0.4 acres. The City of Detroit seeks well-designed proposals for new development that will build upon the inherent strengths of the site and integrate the site seamlessly with the surrounding neighborhood.

BACKGROUND

Brush Park is located just 1/4 mile north of Downtown Detroit's Central Business District and along the east side of Woodward Avenue, Detroit's major regional transportation corridor and business spine. Brush Park's Downtown/ Midtown location is home to a host of regional institutions such as Wayne State University and the Detroit Medical Center as well as downtown major corporate headquarters and stadiums such as General Motors Corporation, Quicken Loans, Comerica Park (Tigers) and Ford Field (Lions). The Little Caesars Arena (Red Wings / Pistons) opened in 2017 directly across Woodward Avenue and just west of Brush Park. Eastern Market is located to the east of the site across I-75. The site has major freeway access to all parts of southeastern Michigan and sits a few blocks east of the Q-Line light rail system. Recently-completed and on-going development projects in the vicinity include Bedrock's City Modern, American Community Developers' Brush and Watson, and City Growth Partners' Brush 8. Bedrock will also be undertaking development of the 22-acre Brewster-Douglass site located to the southeast.

This historic neighborhood has its roots dating back to the mid 1860's. At one time over 400 historic buildings were located in Brush Park, which was one of Detroit's premiere neighborhoods and at the turn of the 19th century was known as the "Little Paris of the Midwest". The 1960's saw the Brush Park neighborhood substantially deteriorate, with a high incidence of vacancy, crime, and abandonment with subsequent demolition. Since the mid 1990's however the City of Detroit has initiated an aggressive campaign to save the remaining historic properties and invest in neighborhood-wide infrastructure improvements. Recent years have seen accelerated investment in new housing and businesses, with the introduction of more contemporary architectural styles to complement the historic context.

DESIRED DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

The City seeks a residential or mixed-use development designed in conformance with the Brush Park Form Based Code. Residential proposals may include units for rent or for sale. A minimum of 20% of rental units should be affordable to households earning up to 80% of the Area Median Income.

The site is currently zoned PD Planned Development, however it benefits from its location in the Form Based Code district created specifically for Brush Park to provide residents and developers with a predictable vision of the built environment. All plans should be designed to be consistent with this new code, as provided in this link. Building types may include mid-rise buildings, multiplexes, townhouses, and/or carriage homes and mews buildings.

The development site is also located within the boundaries of a local historic district. Development plans will require approval from the Historic District Commission. Respondents will be responsible for conducting their own due diligence on what additional zoning and permitting approvals, if any, may be required.
