(b) What surveillance data may be inadvertently collected during the authorized uses of the surveillance technology, and what measures will be taken to minimize the inadvertent collection of data; and

- After careful consideration, the DPD cannot determine any instance or situation where legally protected information may be collected from the proposed technology.
- Data from the surrounding areas may be collected during the use of the dumping cameras.
- All inadvertently collected video data will be deleted within thirty (30) days with no copies being created per DPD's retention policy.

(c) How inadvertently collected surveillance data will be expeditiously identified and deleted.
