Welcome to the City of Detroit!

Congratulations on your new role! We are thrilled to have you join our team. As part of your onboarding, this guide provides key information, essential resources, and instructions on accessing important systems to help you transition smoothly.

The Human Resources Department is committed to our mission of making the City of Detroit an “Employer of Choice and a Great Place to Work.”

During your first few weeks, you’ll connect with HR staff, team members, and supervisors who are here to support you. Don’t hesitate to reach out to them with questions. We believe by working together we can positively impact one another as well as our community.

We are excited to welcome you and look forward to your success in your new role.

Best,

Denise Starr,
Director of Human Resources

Ursula Taylor,
Deputy Director of Human Resources

Welcome to the City of Detroit.

Mary Sheffield
Mayor of Detroit

I am honored to welcome you as you begin your new role with the City of Detroit. You are joining a dedicated team of public servants committed to making a meaningful difference in the lives of Detroiters. Your selection reflects not only your skills and experience, but also the confidence we have in your ability to contribute to our shared vision for a stronger, more equitable Detroit.

As a City of Detroit employee, you are stepping into work that matters. Every role—across every department—plays a part in serving our residents, strengthening neighborhoods, and supporting businesses. Detroiters are counting on public servants who lead with integrity, innovation, and a deep commitment to service, and we are confident you will bring those values with you each day.

Together, we will continue moving Detroit forward—expanding opportunity, building trust, and ensuring every Detroit resident has access to the resources and support they deserve. Your energy, expertise, and dedication are essential as we lead with transparency, compassion, and excellence.

Thank you for choosing to serve the City of Detroit. I look forward to working alongside you and witnessing the positive impact you will make in the months and years ahead.

Welcome to the team!

Sincerely,
Mary Sheffield
Mayor, City of Detroit

Living Our Core Values at the City of Detroit

At the City of Detroit, our seven core values serve as the foundation of everything we do. They guide how we serve residents, support one another, and build a stronger Detroit together. These values aren't just words on paper—they come to life each day through the dedication, creativity, and teamwork of our employees.

Each of our core values—Collaboration, Integrity and Ethics, Customer-Centered Service, Professionalism and Credibility, Accountability, Workplace Safety and Security, and Opportunity, Diversity, Inclusion, and Equity—reflects the standards we uphold as public servants. They shape how we work together, how we make decisions, and how we show up for our residents every day. These values remind us that our actions matter: that we succeed when we collaborate, earn trust through ethical behavior, put people first, uphold professionalism, take responsibility, prioritize safety, and create opportunities for every Detroit to thrive. By living these values, we strengthen our workforce, our culture, and the communities we proudly serve.

Seven Core Values

Collaboration

We must work together to meet the needs of our residents. This includes cooperating within our respective teams and other departments, along with the Mayor, City Council, Civil Service Commission, and organized labor unions. We recognize that silos only hinder success and that we cannot achieve our goals without each other. We encourage, seek and value stakeholder input.

2

Integrity and Ethics

We work to build trust with the public and be transparent in all we do. We must operate out of integrity and adhere to the Ethics Ordinance. City employees must adhere to the standards of promoting public and preserving integrity in all interactions.

3

Customer-Centered

We strive to provide excellent customer experiences for all Detroiters who live, work, and visit here. We also serve our internal customers, such as team members, management, and co-workers across all departments. As representatives of Detroit, all employees should go the extra mile when providing services to our internal and external customers.

4

Professionalism and Credibility

We display responsible and mindful behavior at work. Employees in Detroit are expected to maintain a high level of professionalism. That includes having a positive attitude, demonstrating self-awareness, and maintaining a professional appearance. We must adhere to work rules and workplace policies. Excellence and professionalism are essential pillars in all positions.

5

Accountability

We take responsibility for our own behavior. We take our positions seriously, not only for attendance but to be punctual and fully present. We seek developmental opportunities to learn, grow and improve. We work to simplify processes, to enhance services and accessibility for Detroiters. We are committed to delivering quality and timely service.

6

Workplace Safety and Security

The safety of employees and residents is our highest priority. We are committed to following and adhering to all safety rules and policies. Everyone must report potentially hazardous situations and unsafe working conditions immediately. We promote a harassment-free environment. We adhere to our zero-tolerance Workplace Violence policy.

Opportunity, Diversity, Inclusion, and Equity

The goal for all Detroit employees is to be fair and impartial. We embrace diverse ideas, opinions, and experiences. We create and support an accessible work environment that includes and respects differences. We believe accessibility is essential to an inclusive environment and universal participation is a proactive approach to ensuring that everyone has an equitable opportunity in the City of Detroit.

The Human Resources Department

The City of Detroit Human Resources Department is a strategic partner to all City departments, ensuring the attraction, development, and retention of a skilled and diverse workforce committed to serving Detroit residents.

Talent Acquisition: Administers full life cycle recruitment needs of City departments, including but not limited to workforce planning, sourcing, screening, talent selection and temporary services.

Employee Services/Risk Management: Provides services to support operational needs, enhance the work environment and foster a culture of engagement. Key functions include Onboarding, Employee Experience, Engagement, Employee Relations, Talent Retention, Well-being, Workers Compensation, Safety and Leave Management.

Benefits Administration: Administers medical, dental, optical, life and supplemental insurance benefits for approximately 10,000 active employees and their families. Initiates wellness, prevention activities, employee communications, health education, and our 457 (b) deferred compensation plans.

Policy, Planning, HRIS and HR Operations: Undertakes broad analytical studies to inform data-driven decision-making. Initiates policy planning, identifies gaps, and provides an institutionalized “second opinion” on HR policy matters. Supports the Civil Service Commission (CSC) and is responsible for drafting revisions to the Civil Service Rules for CSC review. Manages HR operations, including budget development, records administration, and procurement management. HRIS manages and supports all HR technology systems to streamline and automate HR processes.

Labor Relations: Negotiates and administers 41 collective bargaining and supplemental agreements in accordance with the City Charter and State law. Provides technical and professional support to all City departments and agencies to ensure consistent and equitable contract terms and their uniform applications and interpretation. Charged with preventing or lessening any labor management disputes resolution techniques. Conducts research and acts as an advocate for the City of Detroit in umpire hearings, panel hearing, M.E.R.C. hearings, arbitration hearings, grievance hearings and special conferences.

Classification & Compensation: Provides classification and compensation services, which include compensation market analysis, job analysis, maintenance of the classification systems, salary equity reviews, and job specification system validation.

Talent Development and Performance Management: Leads the digital transformation and traditional approaches to learning and development solutions and interventions to support the strategic, operational, and organizational goals and objectives. This includes employee training, organizational transformation initiatives, career readiness, custom learning solutions, city-wide special projects, leadership and organizational development, certification programs, and performance management.

Probation Periods and Intervals

Probation Periods

All certified employees serve a 6 month or 12 month probation period depending on their classification and collective bargaining agreement intervals. Upon departmental request, a probation period may be extended once for a period not to exceed the length of the original probation.

Employees also serve a probation period for changes of status (promotion, demotion, and transfer) and must successfully pass before permanent status in the new position is granted.

Probation Intervals

Initial - The Notice of Probation is used to inform an employee that his/her employment in the new position is probationary and subject to a review and evaluation of job performance.

Preliminary - The Preliminary Probation is used to document an employee's performance evaluation about halfway through the probation period, as an aid in providing feedback to the employee.

Final - The Final Probation is used to document an employee's performance evaluation around the end of the probation period, as an aid in providing feedback to the employee of their permanent placement, extension of probation or discharge of the new position.

Extension - The Extension of Final Probation is used to document the recommendation on permanent status for an employee when his/her probation was extended during the first probationary evaluation. Complete at extension date, if applicable.

For more information regarding the probation process you may contact the Employee Services Consultant for your department. For more information contact the Employee Services Call Center at 313-224-3725.

The General Retirement System of the City of Detroit is a program which, together with your Social Security benefits, helps you and your family plan for the economic challenges of retirement longevity.

City of Detroit Retirement Plan is a Hybrid and has two components, a pension component and an annuity component.

Mandatory Pension

The pension, also called a Defined Benefit Plan, requires mandatory employee contributions, which are deductions withheld from your paycheck every pay period. The pension is a retirement plan funded by employer contributions, employee contributions and earnings from the assets of the System.

How much are my mandatory contributions?

If you are a General City employee your mandatory contribution is currently 4% of your base compensation. The 4% is deducted on a pre-tax basis. If you are a Fire Department employee your mandatory contribution is 8%. (Please refer to the Plan of Adjustment or your Collective Bargaining Agreement for further details.) These rates can change depending on the funding of the plan.

Voluntary Annuity

The annuity component is voluntary, where employees can elect to participate. It's called the Annuity Savings Fund. The annuity permits you to make voluntary contributions, which, while employed earns between 0% and 5.25% annually. You may contribute between 3%, 5% or 7% of your pay. You can also change voluntary contributions throughout the year. The voluntary contributions you make are yours to withdraw once you meet plan criteria.

When is a pension vested?

A pension benefit is secured when a member has at least ten 10 years of credited service.

The Office of Labor Relations

The Office of Labor Relations' goal is to create and maintain harmonious relationships by fostering constructive and fair labor relations that benefit both the City of Detroit and its employees while administrating collective bargaining agreements and maintaining compliance with applicable laws and regulations.

Its main functions include:

- Negotiating and Administering Labor Contracts: OLR is responsible for negotiating collective bargaining agreements (CBAs) between the City of Detroit and its unions. These CBAs establish wages, benefits, working conditions, and other terms of employment.
- Dispute Resolution: The office facilitates the resolution of disputes between the City of Detroit and its employees. This includes addressing grievances, complaints, and allegations of unfair treatment, often through mediation or arbitration.
- Ensuring Compliance with Labor Laws: OLR ensures that both the City of Detroit and employees comply with relevant labor laws and regulations, including those related to worker rights, wage and hour laws, and workplace health and safety.
- Advising on Labor Policies: The office provides guidance to the City of Detroit on labor-related issues, including policy development, updates to labor law, and best practices for workplace management.
- Training and Education: The office also offers training and resources for improving labor relations, including managing collective bargaining agreements, understanding labor laws, and fostering effective workplace communication.
